ASMA M. JDAITAWI

Assistant professor

Management Information Systems department

School of Business, The University of Jordan

Amman, Jordan.

E-mail: a.jdaitawi@ju.edu.jo

EDUCATION:

- Ph.D. in Management Information Systems, Aston University in Birmingham, UK (2016-2021). Thesis title: "The role of social media in promoting the social resilience of refugees in post-disaster recovery context: Syrian crisis as a case study".

- Master of Management Information Systems: Yarmouk University, Irbid, Jordan (2007-2009).

- The post-graduate certificate in teaching and learning in higher education (PGCert): Aston University (2018).

- Bachelor of Computer Information Systems: Yarmouk University, Irbid, Jordan (2004-2007).

PUBLICATIONS:

- Jdaitawi, A., Uren, VS & Rodríguez-Espíndola, O., (2019). Communication over Social Media: Promoting Resilience and Enhancing Recovery in Refugee Crises. Accepted paper to be presented in the 6th European Conference on Social Media (ECSM19) hosted by University of Brighton, UK on 13th – 14th June 2019.

- Jdaitawi, A., Uren, VS & Rodríguez-Espíndola, O., (2018). The role of social media in promoting resilience in post-disaster recovery context: The Syrian crisis. In the 27th International Conference on Management of Technology: Towards Sustainable Technologies and Innovation. 27th International Conference on Management of Technology, Birmingham, United Kingdom, 22/04/18.

- Jdaitawi, A., Uren, VS & Rodríguez-Espíndola, O., (2018). The use of social media by NGOs to promote social resilience: the case of Syrian crisis. A conference paper presented at Jordan in the Refugees in the Middle East "International community: opportunities and challenges". 14-15 March 2018.

- Jdaitawi, A. (2013). Moodle's Role in Improving the Development and Delivery of Education at the University of Jordan. A conceptual paper presented at the First Conference on Understanding Global Business Environment: Its Economic, Financial, Accounting, Marketing, and IT Dimensions, Amman, Jordan.

- Bataineh, M., Abu-Shanab, E. & Jdaitawi, A. (2009). M-Government in Jordan: Today and the Future, A conceptual paper presented in the Proceedings of the 4th International Conference on Information Technology (ICIT 2009), Amman, Jordan, pp. 1-9.

Teaching Experience:

- An Assistant professor from April 2021- present at the School of Business, MIS Department, The University of Jordan, Jordan.

- I have delivered tutorials for operations management principals' course at Aston university business school in 2017, 2019.

- I have delivered skills workshops for Master students at Aston University in October 2018.

- I was an ESOL trainer worked in Talk English project, Fircroft College, Birmingham.

- I have had six years of experience in teaching bachelor students in the management information systems (MIS) department at the Business school of the University of Jordan (UoJ) (2010-2016). These courses include but not limited to: Introduction to Management Information Systems, Introduction to Visual Basic Programming 2008, Internet and World Wide Web programming, C++ programming, C# programming, Electronic Commerce, Computer Networks, Systems analysis and design and Office Automation.

Achievements:

- The Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research attested that I had submitted the university proficiency exam majoring in Computer Information Systems at the second semester of the academic year 2006/2007 and got the third order (3) among my colleagues in this specialty graduates from all Jordanian universities totalling nine hundred and six students (906).

Training Courses and Workshops:

- Python training course, The university of Jordan
  2020

- Advanced statistical analysis using SPSS. (21 hours)
  29 January-6 February 2014, the University of Jordan.

- The Fundamentals and research methods for postgraduate studies (40 hours)
  (22 April - 20 June 2013).

- Design of study plan (6 hours) 11-12 September 2011.

- Design and teaching strategies. (12 hours) 13-18 September 2011.

- Skills of University teaching effective. (12 hours) 19-22 September 2011.

- Evaluate student learning and test preparation. (12 hours) 25-28 September 2011.

- Laws, regulation, and Instructions of the University of Jordan. (6 hours) 29 September - 2 October 2011.

- Work Ethic University. (2 hours) 3 October 2011.

What did I do until now?

- I have worked as a computer teacher at the ministry of education schools (Sept,2008 - April,2009)

- Teaching Assistance at the Management information systems department at Yarmouk University (2008).

- Lecturer at the University of Jordan until 2016.

- worked as volunteer as ESOL trainer at Fircroft College of adult education in Birmingham.

- Teaching Assistant at Aston University Birmingham, UK (2017-2019).

Other important information:

- Energetic and enjoy dynamic and challenging environments.

- Communication and presentation skills, research skills, proficient in MS project and MS office , and Expert in MAXQDA qualitative research tool.

- Fast adapter, easy going, and have an optimistic view of life.